WASHINGTON NEWS.

Eight Hundred Bills and Joint Resolutions Introduced in Senate.

NO HOUSE SESSION.

The Committee to Investigate the Case of Mr. Roberts Hold its First Session—Financial Bill Before the Senate.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Nearly 800 bills and joint resolutions, several important and concurrent resolutions and petitions numbering hundreds were presented to the senate Wednesday. A majority of the bills were old stagers. A few were of national interest and importance. Mr. Aldrich had the honor of introducing the first measure in the senate. It was the financial bill drawn by the senate committee on finance, of which Mr. Aldrich is chairman, and probably was the most important measure introduced during the day.

Resolutions were offered providing for an investigation by the judiciary committee of all phases of polygamy recently presented in connection with what is known as the Roberts case, expressing the sympathy of the senate with the Boers in their war with Great Britain, and declaring that Senator N. B. Scott of West Virginia is not entitled to a seat in the senate.

Mr. Harris, (Pop. Kas.) was appointed a temporary member of the committee on privileges and elections. The appointment is important and significant because the committee has under consideration the Quay, Clark and Scott contests.

The house held no session.

HOUSE FINANCIAL BILL.

Republicans Give it Indorsement and Will Push It.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The Republican members of the house of representatives have given their unanimous approval to the house financial bill, recently introduced and recommended its immediate consideration and passage. This was accomplished at the caucus held in the hall of the house during Wednesday afternoon, by the adoption of the following resolution.

"Resolved, That H. R. L. entitled 'A bill to define and fix the standard of value, to maintain the parity of all forms of money issued or coined by the United States, and for other purposes,' be and the same is hereby approved and its immediate consideration by the house and passage after reasonable debate, is recommended and urged."

In pursuance of this resolution Mr. Overstreet of Indiana, who introduced and who is in general charge of it, will submit a resolution asking that a special rule be reported for the immediate consideration of the measure. The terms of this special rule are practically agreed upon, and provide that the debate will begin next Monday, with a final vote at the close of the week.

The unanimous approval given to the bill came after two hours of discussion and the adoption of two amendments approved by the framers of the bill. When the meeting began Mr. Cannon of Illinois surrendered the chair to Mr. Hepburn of Iowa, in order to present his views on some modifications he thought desirable. These related to the national banking feature of the bill and Mr. Cannon gave it as his individual opinion that this branch of the subject might better be modified or omitted. He said he supported the bill as a whole and would vote for it, and this was further shown when he voted for the resolution of approval. Mr. Cannon's suggestions did not take the form of amendments and were not pressed.

Committee Investigating.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Representative Taylor of Ohio, chairman of the special committee to investigate the case of Mr. Roberts of Utah, held a meeting of the committee at 11 o'clock this morning. Mr. Taylor says this meeting will determine upon a general line of action. He could not say how soon the committee would be able to report. While the chairman would not speak for the committee, he said he had no doubt that Mr. Roberts would be allowed to be present with counsel if he desired, and would be afforded the usual facilities to have his side presented.

There are a number of witnesses in Washington and some in Utah, but it is probable the committee will not leave Washington. Mr. Taylor said he had some doubt as to whether the hearing, particularly such parts as involve family matters, should be open to the public.

Mr. Roberts was about the house during the day. There was no session and he was engaged most of the time chatting with groups of members and with visitors who showed a friendly disposition toward him. He said he had no comment to make on the course of the house. He will probably look after his interests in person before the committee of inquiry.

As to Mr. Roberts' Pay.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Whether the pay of Mr. Roberts of Utah is stopped as a result of the action of the house in refusing him a seat has not been passed upon by the house officials and will not be raised until the January pay certificates are issued by Speaker Henderson, by which time it is expected that the case will be permanently settled. Mr. Roberts drew his pay up to Dec. 3, the day before congress assembled, on the certificate of Clerk McDowell that he was a member elect.

Short Sessions.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The session of both the senate and the house were short of duration today, the senate adjourning until Monday after a brief executive session.

In the house after the reading of the Journal, the speaker announced the appointment of the committee on rules as follows: Speaker, Dalzell of Pennsylvania and Grosvenor of Ohio, the Republicans, and Richardson of Tennessee and Bailey of Texas, the Democrats.

Hayward's Successor.

Omaha, Dec. 7.—Ever since the late Senator Hayward was taken sick and it was known that the chances were against his recovery, there has been considerable talk as to whom Governor Poynter would appoint to the vacancy. The only ones prominently mentioned are ex-Senator Allen and G. M. Hitchcock, editor of the Omaha World-Herald. The Democrats are urging the appointment of the latter and the Populists the former.

Pension for Mrs. Gridley.

Washington, Dec. 7.—A bill has been introduced by Mr. Penrose of Pennsylvania, to pension Mrs. Gridley, wife of the late Captain Gridley of the Olympia at $100 a month.

Quay May Lose.

New York, Dec. 7.—The Journal's Washington special says Mr. Quay undoubtedly loses his fight, as the committee on privileges stands 5 to 4 against him now by the appointment of Mr. Harris as a member of the committee. Senators Clark and Scott of Montana and West Virginia are also under a cloud.

Nominations for Confirmation.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The president has sent to the senate 294 names of census supervisors appointed during the recess of congress, also many army and navy appointments and promotions which heretofore have been announced.

Jones for Expansion.

Little Rock, Dec. 7.—A stir has come in Arkansas political circles by the announcement that Governor Dan Jones, who is a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator Berry, has come out strongly in favor of expansion. He has heretofore been considered an opponent to that policy along with Senator Berry who is a candidate for reelection. Governor Jones stated in an interview that the only salvation for the southern states is in the expansion of commerce by the opening of new markets in Asia for southern products and that in order to maintain and protect such commerce the Philippine islands must be retained by the United States. Governor Jones' attitude makes expansion the predominant issue of the senatorial race.

Woman Burned to Death.

Leavenworth, Kas., Dec. 7.—Mrs. Vananta Coffey, a middle-aged woman was burned to death here. She was raking coals out of the front of a cookstove into the hearth, when her dress caught fire, and it is said she was unable to put it out because she was partially paralyzed. Her clothing was burned from her body, and she was literally roasted alive.

Child Dies of Hydrophobia.

Guthrie, O. T., Dec. 7.—A 6-year-old daughter of A. H. Swandler, living near Cushing, is dead of hydrophobia. The child was bitten in the face by a strange dog last August. A week ago she began to act strangely, and soon went into convulsions, and continued in them until her death, by biting and striking at every one who came near her suffering the greatest agony.

Husband Charged With Murder.

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 7.—The coroner's inquiry on the death of Mrs. Jessie Williams who died on Thanksgiving night, resulted in a verdict that she came to her death from a blow in her abdomen given by her husband, John D. Williams. Mrs. Williams was prominent socially and one of the most beautiful women in Jacksonville.

Minister and Wife Shot.

Racine, Wis., Dec. 7.—Rev. David B. Cheney of the First Baptist church, and his wife were shot by a burglar at their home on Lake avenue. Both are in a critical condition. If the burglar is caught it is believed the law will be powerless to prevent his being lynched.

Following are some of the subjects to be discussed in the Fifth Sunday Meeting to be held with Spring Hill Church Grimes county
beginning at 9 o'clock Saturday
December 30th, 1899:

What is needed to give the church saving influence?

Is orthodoxy essential to correct
Christian character and life?

Can persons and organizations holding diverse or conflicting tenets
co-operate in Christian work?

Relations of pastor and flock,
and duties of each.

Shall the Fifth Sunday Meeting
be a permanent feature of Free Baptist work in this section of Texas?

As this has not been a feature of our work in this part of the State, a few subjects will be brought up for general discussion, and each discussion will be opened by such person as the presiding officer may call upon at the time.

It is hoped that all ministers and deacons within reach will attend.

CONTEST IN KENTUCKY.

Decision of the Commissioners Not Expected Before Saturday.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 7.—Arguments in the election cases were concluded this morning, but a decision from the commissioners is not expected before some time Saturday. It required all the morning for Judge Hargis to deliver the closing argument for the Democratic side and then the commissioners will spend much time in going over the authorities cited by the attorneys. During all Wednesday Commissioners Ellis and Pryor made copious notes with the evident intention of looking up the authorities themselves.

All sorts of rumors and stories are flying around regarding the surprise the Democratic party has sprung. By some it is said an injunction can be secured restraining Taylor from acting governor in case he received the certificate of election. Others declared the court of appeals had handed down a decision in the case from Ohio county, where tissue ballots were used in the local elections, and the court asserted the election void because of these use of those ballots. This decision would of course be of immense service to the Democratic cause, by the establishment of a precedent upon which the state election commissioners would be almost compelled to declare void the election in the counties of Knox, Johnson, Pike and Magoffin, where certified tissue were used.

Judge Hargis opened his argument in a strong arrangement of the tactics alleged to have been pursued by the Republicans in the city of Louisville. He declared that by reason of the militia and United States marshals, who gathered in the city, the Democratic ticket was deprived of 10,000 votes. He said the conduct of Republicans in Jefferson county was deliberate criminal in their usurpation of power. The judicial acts of Judge Toney in issuing orders of the court directed against the Democratic election officials, also he declared, to be an unlawful assumption of authority. Judge Hargis then turned his attention to the Republican state officials who had, he declared, filled the streets of Frankfort with "a drunken and lawless mob," on the first day of the meeting of the canvassing board for the purpose of overawing the board in the discharge of its sworn duty.

Commissioner Ellis says there is little probability of a decision of the board before Saturday morning.

Work on the Rock Island Extension.

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 7.—At the general offices of the Rock Island it was given out that next week active work would begin on two branch lines in Oklahoma and Indian Territory. Material for both extensions is on the ground in large quantities and enough is now moving to insure the rapid completion of the work. The Oklahoma extension extends from Kingfisher to Guthrie.
This line has not been entirely surveyed,
but work will begin notwithstanding and estimates on the last 80 miles will be completed before the tracklayers overtake the surveying corps. The other line was originally intended to run from Chichasha to Paul's Valley, 50 miles, and has been entirely surveyed. The engineers have been ordered to survey the line to McAlester, 76 miles further. Both lines, it was stated, will be pushed to a rapid completion.

Steamer Lampasas Injured.

Boston, Dec. 7.—The steamer Lampasas, which arrived at this port Wednesday from Galveston, Tex., had a big hole in her starboard bow, the damage having been sustained in a collision with the Pollack Rip lightship. The steering gear of the steamer became disabled and she struck the lightship a glancing blow, which made a hole 15 feet long, 15 feet wide, extending to within two feet of the load water line. The vessel, after some difficulty, repaired her steering apparatus, and patched up the hole in her bow with canvas. She reached here without further mishap.

American Killed in Mexico.

Austin, Dec. 7.—A dispatch from Tampico, Mex., says that George Carlyle, a well to do member of the Metaltoyuca American colony, located in the coffee district south of Tampico, has been murdered by Indians employed by the colonists. The murdered man had resided in Mexico for several years and went there from Ohio. His murder has caused much excitement among the colonists, but no further trouble with the Indians is expected.

Record of a Suicide.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Dec. 7.—A. B. Thomas, committed suicide in Waco, Tex.,
a one time prominent and prosperous merchant of Pine Bluff. He was of violent temper, and was a pal in several affrays here. As a result of a quarrel with a citizen of the city, he murdered the latter and was sentenced to a term in the penitentiary.

Robbed a Prosperous Negro.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Dec. 7.—Robert McGee, a prosperous negro planter of Cotton county, answered a rap at his door, and when he opened the door four men filed into the room. While two of them covered him, the other two searched the room, secured $1500 in money and effected their escape before Pierce could give the alarm. The robbers are still at large.

Shepherds Killed by Cold.

shepherds were killed in the blizzard
that raged in the mountains last week.
The bodies of five have been recovered.

One Rose for a Year's Rent.

One of the quaintest church services in America is that which takes place today, June 11, in Zion's Lutheran church at Men-heim, Pa., when one red rose will be presented by the congregation to Judge J. Hay Brown, representing the heirs of Baron Henry William Stiegel, who deeded the land to the church in pre-revolutionary days. The baron was the first glass and iron manufacturer of note in the United States. Six of his descendants were present
last year when the annual payment was made in accord with the terms of the baron's deed.

To Clean White Ribbon.

White satin ribbons are supposed to be perishable things.
However, with care they can be cleaned and worn indefinitely.
Wash them with warm soap and water and a nail brush, or if not very much soiled rub them with the hands. After rinsing, let them dry thoroughly before ironing. If ironed when wet they are too stiff and will not tie well.

Right in Line.

"Well, I'm glad to see that at least one of the Chicago courts is doing its share toward making the golf tournament a big thing."

"In what way?"

"By drawing attention to the links. Haven't you noticed that the trial of that other sausage-maker who murdered his wife has been started?"

An Immune.

"Do you really believe any one can remain in New York and remain absolutely ignorant of the ways of this wicked world?"

"No," answered Miss Cayenne,
"not unless he happens to be chief of police or something like that."—Washington Star.

An Affectionate Queen.

The queen's affection for her immediate family seems to increase with her years, and she is not happy unless several of her relations surround her. Her majesty pays special attention to the Duchess of York, and her royal highness and her children are objects of great affection to her.
Little Prince Edward of York
"rules the roost" whenever he stays with his illustrious great grand-mother, and his word has more influence with her than the suggestions of emperors. The young prince is already much of a diplomatist. He always runs to open the door for her majesty, and is the first to fetch her foot-stool.

George Washington as a Farmer.

Washington as a property owner was one of the wealthiest men in this country during the last quarter of the eighteenth century.
He owned at the time of his death 51,398 acres, not including the Mount Vernon estate. The property of his wife was valued at $530,000. In 1793 Washington owned 317 head of cattle, 634
sheep, and 54 draught horses.
The general live stock on his farm was estimated at $35,000. Over 300 persons lived on the Mount Vernon estate, and Washington employed his own carpenters,
blacksmiths, weavers, masons, cobblers. A shrewd man at driving a bargain, cautious in all speculative ventures, and fond of the details of business as he was of military affairs, Washington's greatest ambition in time of peace was to be known as the first farmer of America.

One of his greatest treasures won as an agriculturist was a massive silver cup, nine inches high, elegantly chased, and bearing this inscription:
"1790.

A Premium from the Agricultural Society of South Carolina to
George Washington
For raising the Largest Jackass."

Under the inscription a very realistic portrait of the animal was engraved. Washington's marriage to the widow Custis brought to his care an estate valued in round numbers at $100,000. This was great wealth in Washington's day.—Farm

In Memory.

The death angel visited the happy home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Burkhalter at Wellborn last Saturday, and took their sweet little babe, Alonzo, aged 1 year and 1 month. My sympathies are with the bereaved ones, and to them I would say, cherish no spirit of mourning, but be resigned to the will of Him who doeth all things well. I would also say, remember there is another hand which beckons you to a home beyond the Jordan of death, where all will be free from sickness and death, and enjoy the happiness of a never-ending eternity. A Friend.

Our Southland.

Memphis Appeal. "Ex-Governor Hubbard of Texas, and late our minister to Japan, on 'The South, Present and to come,' was one of the most thrilling an eloquent lectures ever heard in this city from the platform. It was a picture full of humor, pathos in the past, and a future outlined full of glorious fruits.

"It is a lecture to be heard from Boston to Galveston, and in the entire Union."

Gov. Hubbard will deliver this famous lecture at the opera house, Bryan next Friday night, December 8. Benefit public school library. Admission 50c.

Bun Worries.

"Bun worries" is descriptive enough, but not so proper a title as "tea trots," but they mean the same. One victim opens her heart to the Cincinnati Inquirer in this fashion:

"I never remember finishing a sentence which I have commenced at one of these functions. Before I have a chance to round it off I am interrupted, dragged away or confronted with a new face to whom I am introduced. I begin again and again. I have the same trouble with my cups of tea. I put them down half emptied to greet some new arrival, to find them whisked away, and each one repeats the history of its predecessor.

"I leave these 'bun worries' with a trail of unfinished phrases and undrunk cups of tea behind me. I go home in a thoroughly unkempt frame of mind, with a tendency to leave off everything I undertake and start something fresh. It is really a sort of disease, a sort of 5 o'clock tea paralysis. Just listen to any of these receptions, and you will agree with me. The women talk in spasmodic staccato gasps. You never get to the point of a story or the telling point of a biography. Every one has her eye on the door for the new arrival, who may prove more interesting or more desirable than the one she is talking to.

"Pardon me" seems to be the excuse for every form of conversational rudeness. I believe this form of nervousness is one of the many symptoms of the national unrest or lack of poise of which foreigners so bitterly complain."

Germ of Sherlock Holmes.

Dr. Conan Doyle got his first idea of his famous detective, Sherlock Holmes, from an old professor of medicine at the Edinburgh University. This man would sit in the patients' waiting room with a face like a red Indian, and diagnose the people as they came in even before they had opened their mouths. He would tell them their symptoms and he would give them details of their lives. "Gentlemen," he would say to the students standing about, "I am not quite certain whether this man is a cork cutter or a slater. I observe a slight callosity or hardening on one side of his forefinger and a little thickening on the outside of his thumb. That is a sure sign that he is either one or the other.

His deductions were very dramatic. "Ah!" he would say to another man "you are a soldier, a non-commissioned officer, and you have served in Bermuda. Now, gentlemen, how did I know that? He came into the room without taking off his hat, as he would go into an orderly room. He was a soldier. A slightly authoritative air, combined with his age, shows that he was a non-commissioned officer. A rash on his forehead tells me that he was in Bermuda and subject to a certain rash known only there."—New England Home Magazine.

Deep Plowing.

Deep plowing brings to the surface for fertilization, by the action of the elements, soil that has been lying dormant for ages. Earth which is brought to the surface from a depth of several feet is soon converted into productive soil by the action of the elements. Deep plowing, therefore, makes the soil rich as deep as it is plowed. A thin soil may be ten or twenty feet. The various elements of plant food found in the earth are attracted to the surface in the greatest quantities by having the soil mellow to a great depth, and this is done by deep plowing and subsoiling. Besides the plant food contained in the earth, there is also stored in the air large amounts of plant food the use of which by plants is greatly facilitated by keeping the soil loose and moist. Deep plowing, therefore, favors the appropriation of plant food under all possible conditions of the air and soil.

By keeping the soil loose to a good depth the loss of crops in extremes of seasons will be avoided. In seasons of drouth moisture is maintained by an open, mellow soil, and when excessive rains prevail water passes away readily from the roots of the growing crop, become as compact as it was before plowed. By repeated tramping by the teams the subsoil becomes hard and is impenetrable by rains, leaving an excess of moisture to injure the plants by remaining in contact with their roots and so preventing growth. The action of the air on the soil produces no desirable effect and moisture and plant food cannot be attracted to the surface from the depths below. All crops require moisture and must be supplied with the needed amount of plant food; mellowness of the soil insures both.

Useful Eloquence.

At the Oxford assizes recently a man was placed in the dock on the charge of having stolen a horse.

The case for the prosecution seemed to leave no doubt on the minds of those present that a conviction would be sure to follow. However, it transpired that a very clever counsel had been engaged for the defense, and the construction he put upon the case, together with his eloquent pleading, had such an effect on the jury that they brought in a verdict of "not guilty," and the prisoner was accordingly acquitted. After he had left the precincts of the court he was accosted by a "pal" thus: "Now, look 'ere, Bill, it's all over now, and I should like to know the truth. Did you really steal that horse?"

"Well," says Bill, "I don't mind telling you that when I stepped into the blooming dock I thought I had, but after listening to that lawyer chap I don't believe I did."

Broiled Frog Legs.

Frogs' legs must be broiled over a quick fire, quick enough to brown them crisply on the outside without charring the inside. While cooking, season lightly with a dressing of salt, pepper and melted butter, and just before serving squeeze a few drops of lemon juice on each morsel. Serve immediately with buttered toast.

A Child's Vain Wish.

Little Edward—I wisht I had whiskers like papa.
Mamma—Why, darling?
Little Edward—Then you couldn't always see when my neck needed washin'.

An Unfortunate Inference.

"My uncle grows strawberries so big that six will fill a quart box."
"I'd be ashamed to have an uncle who would use that kind of quart boxes."

Undesirable.

"Do you suppose the time will ever come when women will serve on the jury?"

"I hope not. There are too many disagreements now."—Detroit Free Press.

Wire Dead Instead of Tree.

Not long ago a prominent citizen of New Orleans went raging into the electric light company's office and declared that one of their wires had killed a pet tree on his premises. "That tree," said he, "has been standing there for twenty years. My children played under it when they were babies and it is associated with some of the pleasantest memories of my life. When it began to die we all mourned and we could not imagine what ailed it until yesterday, when I noticed that a wire was lying right across a branch. My poor tree had been electrocuted and I feel as if murder has been done in my house." Considerably moved the agent of the company went to view the scene of the tragedy and found the tree still alive, but feeble. When he came to trace the wire he discovered one end nailed to the roof of an old barn and the other twisted around a discarded pole. It had been cut off at least two years and forgotten. But the occasion demanded something, so he made the following report: "Tree alive, wire dead. Wire evidently killed by the tree. Bill inclosed."

A Cistern of Wine.

At Asti, in California, last year a cistern 104 feet long by 34 feet wide and 24 feet deep was formed in a hillside for the storage of wine. The immense tank was lined with concrete two feet thick and coated inside with a glaze as impermeable as glass. The capacity of the tank is 500,000 gallons.

The Bitterness of It.

RIO GRANDE DAM.

Special Counsel in Mexico Trying to Settle the Differences.

St. Louis, Dec. 6.—A special to the Chicago Record from the City of Mexico says:

Judge Marsden C. Burch of Grand Rapids, Mich., has arrived in the City of Mexico. He comes as a special counsel for the department of justice at Washington, on an errand relating to the Rio Grande Valley irrigation dispute, the only point of disagreement between the United States and Mexico, the latter country having filed a claim $20,000,000 damages. The normal flow of the Rio Grande for centuries has been sufficient for the people on both sides adjoining.

During the past 50 years the irrigation of Colorado and New Mexico has consumed so much from the headwaters that the stream along the international boundary has been lowered proportionately. Above and below El Paso, the ancient irrigation ditches are now dry, and fertile fields and orchards are a waste. This is the basis of the claim of Mexico. The American government has endeavored to arrange the question on its equities.

During President Cleveland's administration an English syndicate started to dam the river at Elephant butte, 125 miles above El Paso, and thus to control water for irrigation. The syndicate offers to sell the water thus impounded in its reservoir to farmers for 200 miles down the valley on the American side. The Mexican government claimed the scheme was a violation of the Guadalupe treaty, and an injunction was filed on the English company on behalf of both countries.

Meantime at the suggestion of Gen. Anson Hills, negotiations were commenced for the building of an international dam near El Paso, whereby the ancient waterworks might be restored. The English company fought the government scheme. The injunction obtained was dissolved by the territorial courts of New Mexico, but the supreme court of the United States reversed the decision and the case was reopened before the court at Las Cruces, in the governmental defense. The Rio Grande is classed as a navigable stream and the claim is made that the English dam would impair the usefulness of the river. Judge Burch is here to obtain proof on this head and will appear for the United States at Las Cruces court Dec. 12.

The preliminary survey for a railway across the state of Oaxaca, from Quitepec station to Motoronago is contemplated. The road will connect most of the coffee lands of Oaxaca with Vera Cruz, including large tracts operated by Chicago and New York capital.

Indians Retreating.

Ortiz, Mex., Dec. 6.—A courier has just arrived here from the scene of the Yaqui war with dispatches from Gen. Torres for the war department. This courier reports that the fighting between the Yaquis and General Torres troops ceased Nov. 28, the Indians retreating toward Tonichi. Several hundred Yaquis who have been in a strongly fortified position near Sahuaripa, it is thought, are preparing to join the main body of braves driven back by General Torres. Signal fires indicated a concerted movement by the Indians was being planned. The courier says the Yaqui losses in killed and wounded during the 10 days engagement was estimated at 200. The Mexican losses were 15 killed and 30 wounded.

Removal of the Maine Dead.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Assistant Secretary Allen has received a letter from Captain G. G. Green, commander of the naval station at Havana, saying that contracts have been executed for exhuming the remains of the dead of the battleship Maine, buried in Colon cemetery, and saying also that they can be removed to the United States at any time after Dec. 15. The battleship Texas, which will be used for the transportation of these remains, is now on her way from Brunswick, Ga., to Hampton Roads, where she will coal and provision and then start for Havana. These remains are to be brought to Washington and reinterred in the national cemetery at Arlington with full military honors.

Cotton Seed $14 Per Ton.

Corsicana, Tex., Dec. 6.—Every farmer in Navarro county who has more cotton seed than he will need for the next year's planting is rushing his surplus to market as fast as possible in order to get the benefit of high prices paid for seed at this place. There is quite a rivalry between different buyers, which has resulted in the price being pushed up to $14 per ton, that being the ruling figure.

Attempted Assassination.

Taylor, Tex., Dec. 6.—Oscar Walters was shot by some unknown party here, the ball entering his face near the mouth and passing through, breaking the jawbone and knocking out several teeth. He was returning from supper to his place of business when fired on. The wound is not thought to be serious.

Given Two Years.

LaGrange, Tex., Dec. 6.—The jury in the case against Clarence Emerson, a negro, charged with attempted criminal assault, brought in a verdict of guilty and assessed his punishment at two years in the penitentiary. The evidence was all circumstantial.

Estimate of the Cotton Crop.

New Orleans, Dec. 6.—A pool containing the estimate of 53 members of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange on the cotton crop of 1899-1900 ranged from a minimum of 7,955,000 to a maximum of 10,400,000, giving an average of 9,298,480.

The Eagle learns that work on the long bridge or trestle across the Navasota river between Bryan and north Grimes county has been completed and the trestle is now in first-class shape. After the flood the trestle was a total wreck, and it was torn down and rebuilt by Mr. J. H. Wallace, who is working the county convict force, which has done other valuable work on the bridges of the county, and is now at work on the road between Bryan and the Brazos bottom, and doing excellent work.

GERMANY WAKING UP.

Beginning to See the Importance of a Reciprocity Treaty.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Considerable satisfaction is felt in official circles at the awakening of Germany to the need of a reciprocity treaty with the United States. It has been the expectation of the authorities that this would be the effect of the treaty of reciprocity negotiated with France, not only upon Germany, but on all Europe as well. When its operations begins the authorities say that German interests will immediately begin to feel its effect.

The boards of trade throughout the German empire are of a semi-official character and preliminary to the trade negotiations it is customary for the German government desires to obtain the views of the several boards of trade which in the past have been hostile to American products.

The dispatch from Berlin showing the necessity for Germany of a commercial arrangement with the United States indicates to the officials that the boards of trade are beginning to appreciate the effect of the commercial agreement with France and fear the injury which will be done by the treaty, and instead opposing concessions will now be willing that the government should take action. While proposals have been exchanged between the two governments, the Berlin authorities have been waiting for favorable public opinion before pushing the negotiations to completion.

The president's recommendation that congress authorize an invitation to Germany for the constitution of a joint commission of scientific experts and practical men of affairs to conduct a searching investigation of food production and exportation in both countries and report remedial measures, is not to affect the reciprocity negotiations with Germany, provided that government is willing to push the matter, although the president specifically states that such investigations should be made in connection with the pending reciprocity negotiations. The administration does not propose to delay the negotiations when they are earnestly commenced by investigation, provided the German government shows a disposition to hasten them to a conclusion.

FRANCE IS GRATEFUL.

Pleased That McKinley Urges Help for the Coming Exposition.

New York, Dec. 7.—A dispatch to The Herald says:

Nearly all the Paris papers accord the place of honor on the front pages to comments on President McKinley's message which has caused a most favorable and friendly impression. All the papers pay tribute to President McKinley allusion to the share the United States is taking in the exposition of 1900, an allusion unanimously spoken of as most timely and grateful, coming as it does so closely upon the heels of Mr. Chamberlain's aggressive Leicester speech. But it is in government circles and especially at the foreign office that the most marked satisfaction is felt at Mr. McKinley's message. There the conversation is expressed that in no part of the world is there any possible point of friction between the two republics.

In China, the United States will find no power more anxious, heartily and loyally to cooperate in the maintenance of the "open door" policy than France is. There is also a community of interest between the two republics in the Trans-Isthmian canal, for it is now immaterial to the French government whether the Panama or the Nicaraguan or any other route be decided upon. The only interest of France in the matter is that the republic of Ecuador shall not be at liberty to sell or cede to England or any European power, the Galapagos islands, which, in the opinion of French naval authorities, would give England strategic command of the future Trans-Isthmian canal, similar to that which the possession of Aden secures for her in regard to the Suez canal.

Chief of the Creeks.

Ardmore, I. T., Dec. 7.—General Pleasant Porter was Wednesday at Okmulgee selected as chief of the Creek nation. There was no demonstration on the part of the fullbloods, who had protested against the election of Gen. Porter. After his election, Chief Porter addressed the legislature, recommending that the nation be represented at Washington by delegates to agree with congress on the modifications of the last agreement submitted to it, and that the legislature provide for taking a census of the recognized citizens of the Creek nation.

Largest in the World.

Colorado Springs, Dec. 7.—The opening up of the great plant of the Economic Extraction company at Victor is of importance, in view of the fact that for two months past Cripple Creek's production has been limited to the capacity of mills and smelters to treat the ores. The new mill is the largest in the world, having 1000 tons daily capacity, or about three-fourths of the combined capacity of all the smelters and reduction works now operating in the district.

Murdered His Wife.

Lithonia, Ga., Dec. 7.—Hiram Sharp shot and killed his wife and wounded his mother-in-law here. Family trouble was the cause. Sharp and his wife had been married 20 years. Sharp has escaped into the woods and a party of citizens headed by the sheriff and posse are hunting him.

Another Bank Robbed.

Pontiac, Ill., Dec. 7.—The bank at Connell, Ill., eight miles from here, was robbed of $8000 in currency. The robbers blew the large safe open.

AWFUL ACCIDENT.

Mack Robinson Killed in a Runaway Near Madisonville.

Yesterday, near his home one mile north of Madisonville, Mack Robinson, about 16 years of age and a brother of Mr. Knolly Robinson of this city, was killed in a frightfully tragic runaway accident. He was in a wagon when the mule team became frightened and ran away. It appears that the wagon struck a tree and young Robinson was thrown out over the front, when in some manner his head was crushed by the double-tree. Knolly Robinson left for Madisonville last night. He and other relatives and friends have the sympathy of the Eagle.

THE END NOT NEAR.

Insurrection in the Philippines Still Vigorously Prosecuted.

NOT ENOUGH TROOPS.

All the Americans There Only Enough to Garrison the Towns Taken by Them—Aguinaldo Is Still Being Hotly Pursued.

New York, Dec. 7.—A dispatch from Manila says the hope of ending the insurrection and the halting of military operations in the Philippines, which seemed so bright a few days ago, has again faded into the uncertain future. Much has been accomplished during the last few weeks, and the campaigning has been almost phenomenal. In the dreadful weather, through devastated country, across swollen rivers, along roads that are impassable for wagons, and artillery and in some cases for cavalry, the advance of the troops have been so rapid, and in so many directions that they often have been beyond the military telegraph lines, and operations necessarily have been independently conducted by the field commanders. The army is rightfully proud.

The insurgents have had a series of routs and disasters. The slaughter has been great. They have lost a large quantity of supplies and munitions of war and more than 1000 armed men surrendered or captured during their retreat of the last few weeks. Their government is scattered or captured. What of it is at liberty is in flight. A portion of Aguinaldo's family is in our lines. Aguinaldo himself is a fugitive.

Notwithstanding all these things, there is no reason for an extreme optimistic view of the situation. Nothing more is heard of having the rebellion stamped out in the course of a few days. That sort of talk only lasted while the insurgent leaders were slipping away last week. The field commanders now think the end is still afar.

It is admitted that little is definitely known of the present strength or whereabouts of the insurgents. Aguinaldo's army is estimated from 20,000 to 30,000 armed men, scattered throughout the islands. There are 45,000 American soldiers now in the Philippines, 35,000 being in Luzon. Still we hold less than one-third of the area of Luzon, but what we have is the most desirable of the territory. All of the 65,000 American troops could be easily absorbed in active campaigning and garrisoning. The army cannot continue the present exertions another month with the poor food found in the country without much illness.

YOUNG HEARD FROM.

He Reaches Vigan After a Hard Fight Near There.

Manila, Dec. 7.—General Young reports his arrival at Vigan on the evening of Dec. 5, having encountered a force of the enemy at Narbacan, 12 miles south of the city, whom he drove eastward into San Quentin canyon. His troops are now pressing them back. The country is extremely rough and strongly entrenched.

About 600 prisoners who escaped reported that the insurgents had allowed all but the American and prominent Spanish prisoners to escape from Bangued. Later the insurgents were driven back into the mountains.

Transportation with subsistence and medical supplies will be sent to Vigan to bring prisoners to Manila and supply Young's troops with the necessary quartermasters stores.

Our casualties were one killed and 12 wounded, the wounds mostly slight. The enemy left in the trenches 25 dead, a few rifles, several thousand rounds of small ammunition and 40 shrapnel.

Young has sufficient troops to meet all difficulties.

Bank of Cornell Robbed.

Cornell, Ill., Dec. 7.—The Bank of Cornell's safe was blown up with nitroglycerine by a gang of seven men. The robbers secured between $5000 and $8000 in money besides valuable papers. The safe is a total wreck, the furniture is badly demolished and the building is damaged to a considerable extent. The deed was an exceedingly daring one. The robbers entered the town at 1:30 a. m. and were seen by Earl Slats, a young man of this city. Immediately they pounced upon him, bound and gagged him and took him with them to the bank.

Shot from Ambush.

Macon, Miss., Dec. 7.—H. B. Wycker was killed about one mile from his home in Winston county. This is a continuation of the Johnston killings in Winston county some time since. This makes four white men and two negroes who have been killed in this feud. They were all shot from ambush.

Indians Killing Game.

Santa Fe, Dec. 7.—The Apaches and Navajoes are exterminating the large game in northern New Mexico. They are killing deer out of season, and unless steps are taken by the government to restrain them, it is likely the large game will disappear from New Mexico before long.

Leprosy in the Philippines.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Leprosy in the Philippines causes medical authorities to look into the subject. There are 250 cases in Manila alone.

SOUTH AFRICAN WAR.

Dispatches from British Sources Show the Boers Active.

London, Dec. 7.—A story is current at Durban to the effect that the Boers made what they thought would have been a final effort to capture Ladysmith Dec. 4, but were defeated and retreated. As the story was brought by runners it is received with a reservation, as the unreliability of these "Kaffirgrams" are notorious. According to this report the Boers opened a furious bombardment during the morning of Dec. 4, and continued it for hours when the British finally silenced the Boer guns, made a sortie and hard fighting followed, which resulted in the Boers retreating after very heavy losses, estimated in the hundreds.

Dispatches from Frere camp, partially confirm the retirement of Free State burghers from the vicinity of Ladysmith, but do not indicate a retreat or defeat on the previous day, while the statement in the same dispatch says the Boers firing into Ladysmith shows the Boer guns still active. Also it is pointed out that all suggestions of weakening refer to the Free Staters. Apparently the Boers are still full of fight, though it is reiterated they are short of supplies.

According to a dispatch from General Schlabach's laager, dated Dec. 3, the French and Austrian military attaches had arrived there, while the German attaches have gone to join the Boer forces along the Tugela river, where a collision is momentarily expected.

Perhaps the explanation of the retirement of the burghers from Natal can be found in the dispatch from Modder river of Dec. 3, saying that a strong Boer force estimated to number 8000 men, are reinforcing General Cronje from Natal.

The same dispatch says everything points to the fact that a great engagement will be fought at Spytfontein. The Boers are massing on the hills there and are vigorously building stone fences and digging rifle pits in every direction. The Boers redoubts on Lazaretto ridge, west of Kimberley, are also being extended and strengthened, showing that the rumors of the intentions of the Boers to abandon an attempt to stem General Methuen's advance was unfounded.

The British have shifted their camps a few hundred yards away from the battlefield and are settling down for the week. There are some cases of fever among the troops. Much depends on General Gatacre's advance. There are undoubtedly a large concentration of Boers ahead of General Methuen. Practically the whole of their Mafeking force have joined the Kimberley besiegers.

The official account of the sortie at Kimberley on Nov. 28, when the British casualties as cable Wednesday occurred, says: "The British demonstrated towards Wimbledon rifle range. The enemy's guns were positioned from a range at Spitzkop to Wimbledon siding. Major Scott-Turner, with mounted troops attacked the enemy's right flank, capturing the laager and three redoubts. The enemy in the fourth redoubt made a stubborn resistance, when Major Scott-Turner was killed. The British captured many shells and destroyed old stores."

The same dispatch gives reports from Colonel Kekewich, dated Dec. 3 and 4, showing the Boers are increasing in numbers around Kimberley.

Advices From Pretoria.

Pretoria, Dec. 6.—Official dispatches received here from different Boer sources say all is quiet, except at Kimberley, where the armored train made sorties this morning.

Orange Free State has proclaimed the annexation of Dordrecht, about 50 miles north of Queenstown, Cape Colony. The Tagula bridge is also announced so completely ruined that it will be the work of great magnitude for either beligerent to restore it.

The British fired on some Republican scouts south of Tugela this morning. There were no casualties.

A newspaper correspondent named Lynch, who entered the Boer lines at Ladysmith on Monday, with the alleged purpose of exchanging newspapers, has been made a prisoner and will be brought to Pretoria.

Noted Criminal Arrested.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—The police say a string of evidence has been completed which shows that Herman Valentine, the alleged hotel swindler, now under arrest in Chicago, is one of the most extensive forgers ever apprehended in this country. A list of 113 different names under which Valentine operated, the dates of the visits and the cities visited was found in a notebook in the man's pocket. Letters of complaint from hotelkeepers and chiefs of police in over 200 cities, corroborate this list.

Removed to Little Rock.

Little Rock, Dec. 7.—All the general offices of the Choctaw and Memphis have been removed to Little Rock. A full trainload of office effects and employees of the traffic, accounting and treasury department arrived over the new line, and have been assigned quarters in the headquarters building, adjoining quite substantially to the railroad population of Little Rock.

Mysterious Order.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 7.—The local members of the state guard were instructed to assemble at the armory last night. They were later dismissed and told to be in readiness to reassemble at a given signal. The cause of the assembling could not be learned, the officers saying they themselves do not know.
